So those are all the goodies I recommend from items that I have bought or would buy, were I to register again today! Some products, like our mini-crib we bought because we lived in our tiny apartment but now, if I were to do it again, I would buy our second crib, the Ikea Gulliver or a Pottery Barn classic crib. Also, I would buy a Boon baby bath positioner because we now have a tub (we had to buy the Prince Lionhearted Flexi because we only had a shower.) Good luck and have fun! Remember, all the baby TRULY needs is you (and some diapers and clothes!)

If you want to read more about my rationale for each item, please reference my post on Baby Registries!

*Fisher-Price Pack n' Play came out after I had my second baby. If you want an inexpensive pack n' play and don't plan on doing a ton of traveling, I would buy this one. It has the bouncer and a bassinet attachment, as well as a changing table. I use our inexpensive Graco pack n' play as a changing station for downstairs and I take our nice Baby Bjorn on trips. Just my two cents!
